

Prepare yourself and your child for ski lessons:

How many kids per lesson?

What will you do if my child is upset? At what point will you call me?

Do you perform background checks on the instructors?

Will my child ride alone on the lift?

Will my child be aloud to ride alone with a stranger?

Things to remember:

Go to bed early. Yep ski vacations are that type of vacation.

Charge your cell phone so if needed Ski School can reach you during the day.

Plan ahead so you can make dropping your little one off quick. There is nothing worse than dragging out the goodbye.

Label everything!

Feed your little one a healthy breakfast.

Hydrate, that goes for you and your grom. Coming from sea level to 8,000 feet will affect you if you do not hydrate.
